

Repiderma

Features:

- Protective wound spray
- Antibiotic-free
- Combination of copper and zinc
- Contains chelated micronised minerals

Product Information:

Repiderma is an aerosol spray, made in Europe by Intracare. Repiderma spray works as a protective wound repair spray for all animals. It contains adhesive and protective substances which ensure longest possible contact time with affected skin and lesions. Repiderma is equally useful on hooves of horses, sheep, goats and pigs, and it can also be used as a navel or post-dehorning spray.

The solution contains a combination of copper and zinc which is known for its anti-microbial properties and healing stimulation. The chelated minerals are micronised using the latest techniques. Repiderma spray is best used twice, 3 days apart.
